Thanks go to Maldon resident Barry Murfett, who read last week's article in the Times about a postcard (c. 1907) which pictures an early motorbike. Barry put the Times in touch with Greg Smith, the owner of an antique motorbike which is almost certainly the machine pictured on the old postcard.

Greg, who lives near Bendigo, has owned the motorbike since 2003 and he was intrigued to see that the bike in the early postcard was painted with the word 'Tarrangower'. "My reference books on early Australian motorbikes call this the 'Maldon,'" Greg said. "And that's the name that my bike carries today."

The Times visited Greg and wife Denise to photograph the bike and was thrilled to find that here is a couple who have a vintage car comfortably ensconced in their living area! It's a beautiful, immaculate Schacht - an American car built in 1909 that was owned by Gerald Buckley of Buckley & Nunn fame for 50 years.

A little of the motorbike's background story, thanks to Greg who has done quite a bit of preliminary research: attached to the bike is a brass plaque which states that it was built by W. Mead of Maldon. Mr W. Mead set up his business in the old Warnocks building in 1898, selling a grab bag of products - everything from bicycles, sewing machines and pianos to seeds, plants and books.

In 1906, the Times wrote about "...a set of parts of a 'Tarrangower' motor bicycle which will next week be built into a complete machine (the first in this district)."

Fire/car accident report

It was a lucky escape for this driver on the Maldon-Castlemaine Road.

IT was all quiet locally on the fire front this week, but some crews from the region went to lend their support at the huge fire burning in the Beaufort area.

Both Newstead and Maldon Fire Brigades were called out last week to assist at car accidents.

For the Newstead Brigade, it was the second car accident in a week. In both cases, ambulance services were required. The first was a two-car collision which resulted in one person being taken by ambulance to hospital. The second was a more serious accident, with the air ambulance being called in to take the sole occupant to hospital.

The Maldon Fire Brigade attended an accident on the Maldon-Castlemaine Road last week where a car swerved to avoid a kangaroo and ended up on its roof. The driver, the sole occupant of the car, did not require hospital treatment.

Councillor split

IN a split vote at last week's Council meeting - with the matter decided by the Mayor's casting vote - Councillors approved the subdivision of farmland so that the owners could build a second house. This decision goes against the advice of Council's own officers, which recommended that the planning permit application be refused.

Council's vote gives permission to build a house on a site of around 3 hectares on a 54-hectare farm at Watson Street, on the outskirts of Castlemaine.

Cr Rosie Annear absented herself from the Council chamber during the vote. Councillors Gardner, McLure and Henderson voted against, while Councillors Maltby, Cordy and Driscoll voted for the proposal. Cr Driscoll, as Mayor, then used his vote to tip the scales in favour of the application.

Cr McLure pointed out that approving the application would set a precedent, where Council could be continually asked to cut up farming land for one or two houses. Cr Gardner deemed the proposal "...development by stealth."

Those in favour of the proposal were of the view that building a second dwelling on the land would not affect the continued use of the land for agriculture.

Cleanaway wins tender

COUNCILLORS voted at last Tuesday's meeting to award the kerbside waste and recycling tender to Cleanaway.

One of five companies to submit a tender, Cleanaway will be contracted for an initial period of seven years, with the option of a three-year extension. The total estimated contract value is $36 million.

And here's a pleasing detail: Council will be considering a recommendation of a green waste recycling system, and also one for glass, at a future Council meeting.

Newstead Hosts Flood Resilience Meeting

A resilient Newstead gathers.

The community have their say.

OVER 40 people attended last Thursday night's council-initiated Flood Resilience Recovery meeting at the Newstead Community Centre. The meeting was held to raise awareness of any relief assistance that may be available to those affected by the recent storm event and to give the community an opportunity to reach out for any support.

Neale Chandler, one of Council's Community Flood Resilience Recovery Coordinators, apologised for the short notice, which was precipitated by the short window of opportunity to have psychologist and national disaster expert David Younger speak to the community and offer tips for recovering well and answer any questions.

Resources were provided, which included pamphlets on Emergency Essentials, a Heatwave Action Plan and Building Resilience - Making Homes climate ready. A delicious meal was also made available free to all attendees at the beginning of the evening.

Correction

FOLLOWING the recent article about the late John Ponder, retired Colonel Doug Knight got in touch with the Times. Doug is the President of the Australian Commando Association Victoria. Doug wishes to correct the record.

The article, when outlining John's military service during WWII, stated that after serving with the secretive Special Operations Executive behind enemy lines in Greece:

"...John was posted back to Australia where he joined the Z Force Special Unit (the equivalent of the today's SAS) as a major."

This is incorrect. John was one of a number of officers from SOE who were detached to Special Operations Australia, also known under its wartime cover name of the Services Reconnaissance Department. He worked in Z Special Unit, a British non-operational unit which was categorically NOT the equivalent of today's SAS.

John spent the remainder of his service establishing contact with Allied prisoners of war, and then demobilising British servicemen.

Apologies for this error, which is all the writer's own work.

Viv Markham

Neale Chandler Community Flood Resilience Recovery Coordinator (left) with David Younger psychologist and national disaster expert.

In brief, according to David, people have not been getting sufficient time to recover from one event before another comes along. It is a new era of cascading events and we also can not assume emergency services will always be around to help. Accordingly it is imperative to adopt a recovery and preparedness plan now, whether that be as a family and/or as a community, to lessen the physical and psychological stress that will be placed upon us. If we are prepared, we can minimise the disruption to our lives, and it shouldn't be as frightening when it does occur, and we can avoid any last-minute mistakes.

In the latter part of the evening, during the Q & A session, some excellent questions, criticisms and observations were raised by attendees, which will be taken back to Council for further investigation. If you missed the evening, more meetings will be planned for the future and the community will be notified. Alternatively, if you think you may be eligible for assistance, call 5471 1700 and ask to speak to Council's Emergency Management team or email info@mountalexander.vic.gov.au.

Maldon's motorbike mystery

A month later, the Times breathlessly announced that Mr Mead's motor cycle had been completed and taken out for a trial run. "It runs very smoothly and appears to be far superior to any motor we have yet seen here," the Times wrote.

The following month, the Times reported that Mr Col McArthur bought the 'Tarrangower' and had been having a fine old time riding it around the area.

Fast forward to 1910, and W. Mead was still in business, advertising that he had been appointed local agent for a motor company supplying cars and motorbikes with prices ranging from 275 pounds to an eye-watering 1,350 pounds. And W. Mead was something of a multitasker - in the same paper, he advertised his services as a tax agent.

According to Greg, there were many motor bikes being built in country towns at the time that the 'Tarrangower' bike was created. "They were mainly made from parts that came from England and Europe," he said. "For instance, the 'Tarrangower' was made from a B.S.A. frame from England, and a Minerva motor that was manufactured in Belgium."

Greg describes the 'Tarrangower' (or is that the 'Maldon'?) as basically a motorised push bike. With no gear box and clutch, the bike basically has only one speed, with pedals to help start it.

What about brakes? "It now has brakes, but originally there weren't any," Greg said. "There wasn't much traffic on the road back in the early days, so there wasn't as much need for brakes!"

The longest journey that Greg has undertaken on the bike was a trip from Sydney to Melbourne. "It was a re-enactment of the 1905 Dunlop reliability trials and it took five days," he said. Member of an antique bike club, Greg is going on a more sedate ride next weekend, across to Llanelly and back.

Greg was thrilled to see the postcard reproduced in the Times. "It wasn't just that I found out that the name of the bike was actually the 'Tarrangower' and not the 'Maldon'," he said. "It also confirmed that the handlebars on the bike are identical to the original ones."

The postcard throws up a further question for Greg. "Who is the man in the hat?" he asked. "Is it Col McArthur, the first owner of the bike?"

Greg is quite certain that there was only ever one 'Tarrangower' motor bike ever made by W. Mead, and that is the bike that he has in his possession.

But will he change the name painted on his bike - from 'Maldon' back to 'Tarrangower'? "I might leave that job to the next owner," he said.

Maldon Classic tomorrow

TOMORROW (Saturday 2 March) at the Maldon Progress Hall you can attend the third biannual Maldon Classic Bike Show. Attendance is just $5. All proceeds go to the Maldon Hospital and it is a truly worthy cause.

You will be privileged to see possibly the biggest and best display of classic pre-2000 road racing bikes anywhere in Australia. With around 100 bikes expected to be on display, this is a must-attend event for the push bike fraternity (and sorority for that matter). There is no doubt that bike riding for health and fitness has had a major resurgence. Just travel along any sealed country road anywhere around Maldon and you can't help but realise that an event of this nature was too long coming. So don't miss it while you have the chance, or you will be waiting around for another two years for the next one.

So how, you may ask, did the most uncoordinated carbon-based life form living in the known universe end up writing about an activity that demands strength, courage, and grace? Well, like how all the best stuff happens in life - "Right place wrong time, that's how." ....See below

The call went out, first from the Sloan Ranger (big, big boss). Then the TT's enforcer Viv chimes in. Who wants to

A policy about having a policy

AT last Tuesday's Council meeting, Councillors unanimously voted to adopt a Formal Positions of Council Policy which will clarify how Council responds to issues which are beyond Council's remit and on which there is no existing Council position. The policy will be reviewed after each Council election.

The need for this policy has arisen due to residents calling upon Council to take a stand on a specific event, for instance the ongoing conflict in Gaza. Some councils in Victoria - most notably larger metropolitan ones - have adopted policies on matters such as the crisis in Gaza, as well as a range of State, Federal and International political issues.

The Councillors are of the opinion that it is inappropriate for a small rural shire with limited resources to adopt policies on highly complex national and global issues.

Cr Rosie Annear said that Council needed to stay "...as micro as we can. We're a small council with finite resources. We can't be a metropolitan council out in rural Victoria."

cover the Maldon classic bike show? New kid on the block Blythe jumps at the chance, great, bikes, I'm in, I love classic bikes. Reality slowly dawns - it is push bikes, not motor bikes.

Smythe and Robinson high five each other and laugh uncontrollably. What are you going to do here, Blythe, how are you going to inject some excitement into this event? Easy, as it turned out, just talking to the three men involved was a great start.

Peter Gray, Michael McCartney and Jim Knight live and breathe classic and vintage road racing bikes, and fortunately for this writer their passion and knowledge is contagious. Well, their passion is anyway - I still can't tell a derailleur from a side stand. This is essentially a show and shine for state of the art elite road racing machinery pre 2000s - either immaculately kept, or lovingly restored back to pristine concours condition.

The courage of the men who use these machines for their intended purpose is beyond dispute. Elite riders often reach speeds up 120KMH on downhill sections, perched on 21mm tyres that have been glued to the rim, tyres made of linen with a realistic working life of about an hour. They are visibly disintegrating while you are doing these insane speeds. Death is a constant companion on these hell rides.

To illustrate the point Michael arranged the four of us literally touching shoulder to shoulder. He now explains in his own words: "Imagine that your front wheel is mere inches away from the rear one of the rider in front. Now if they brake or try to avoid something or suffer a mechanical failure, 20 or more riders could hit the road, with no more protective gear than a polystyrene helmet."

It would be carnage. There simply is no margin for error in an elite peloton that is best described as combative, more than competitive. This may consist of 30 or 40 riders, maybe more. The writer called barley - he was just too traumatised to continue the article.

The writer left in search of strong drink. To his receding back, Mike yells, "We will get you in the saddle yet Mark" to which the writer responded, "In ya dreams, McCartney."

Belle Property ‘Rate my Agent’ winners

Blasi Mulholland and Rob Waller, Belle Property
Castlemaine / Maldon.

BELLE Property Castlemaine/Maldon are used to compliments from buyers and sellers for going beyond the call. But to have clients go the extra step to take time out of their day to log onto a website, think about and write highly-complimentary testimonials about one of their representatives is a proud moment indeed – for everyone. Which is why Belle Property Castlemaine has much to celebrate as winner of Rate my Agent for Castlemaine. They are equally thrilled to announce Sales Agent Blasi Mulholland has been awarded Sales Agent of the Year for Castlemaine and Belle Property as winner of Large Agency Award nationally.

“Blasi Mulholland deserves the acknowledgement,” said director Narelle Waller. “As humble as Blasi is, she feels quite chuffed with the acknowledgement, and deservedly so. She has an intimate understanding of the local real estate market and is proud to showcase the appeal of Castlemaine and Maldon’s beautiful properties and tightknit community spirit.

“As a sixth-generation local resident and fully licensed real estate agent, Blasi is a warm and friendly person focused on helping people find their new home. With more than 14 years industry experience, she has built a great reputation as a hard-working and persistent property specialist.”

Blasi said, “I am really humbled and delighted to have been awarded Sales Agent of the Year for Castlemaine, and I thank all my clients for their support. And their testimonials! I love the opportunity of meeting new people, building relationships and sharing the amazing area we live in. Working with a high-quality agency like Belle Property Castlemaine/Maldon alongside my directors Rob and Narelle Waller has given me the opportunity to offer a superior service and given the office a great reputation throughout the Mount Alexander Shire.”

Townwide Garage Sale

MALDON’S Townwide Garage Sale starts tomorrow (Saturday 2 March) – so make sure you start early to bag a bargain. At last count there were well over 50 houses (and more to come) participating in this year’s event, so that’s a lot of bargains!

Where to go for those bargains? You can grab a map for the paltry sum of $2 from the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre tomorrow morning from 8am.

The back story: Townwide Garage Sales have been a regular event in Maldon since 2009. The only break in the continuity was during the COVID years, like many events. Originally employed to generate interest in, and flesh out, a sparsely populated fledgling Maldon Antique Fair, it has since assumed a life of its own.

The first two years were run by the Maldon Lawn Bowls Club, but over the years this event that began with 20 to 30 houses has exploded into something along the lines of 10 to 15 percent of all the houses in Maldon. That is roughly 70 to 80 houses. Maldon Inc. took over the event from 2011 until 2022, then the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre took it on.

In the early days of Maldon Inc’s stewardship when this now robust event could have withered on the vine, all sorts of inventive ideas were trialled to encourage map purchases. You wouldn’t think it would be so hard to get someone to part with two bucks would you?

The central person behind this event is local woman Bonnie Gee, who has been running this event since 2011. She takes the bookings, she draws up the maps, including driving all around Maldon and beyond to make sure people have got their own address right (don’t laugh!). Then up at Sparra Fart to sell the maps on the Saturday- this is generally the culmination of about two months of exacting, tedious work. But Bonnie is just one of the unseen army of volunteers that inhabit Maldon - the unseen army that just seems make things happen, or run smoothly or run safely. You might not notice them! But by the great Lord Harry would you miss ‘em if they weren’t there!

Whether you’re selling or buying, here’s hoping you enjoy tomorrow’s Townwide Garage Sale.

Tears and Laughter

Looking at the real estate pages it seems our town will be welcoming a few new faces...change is a good thing, something to wake up the idyll. But we have to draw the line at one evacuee, Le Sel.

‘Claude and Sergine’ have been running their French cafe for around nine years and we could handle a bit more. How very selfish of them! I mean, what’s so hard about running a little cafe, a few croissants here, a cup of coffee there...no big deal, surely?

Well, they made it look easy. From the moment you walked in you felt comfortable; there was always the rumble of conversation and the promise of something tasty to eat.

Like all great cafes it was a meeting place and we’ve all made friends there we might otherwise not have.

This weekend is their last, which promises to be packed, making the job of closing the doors a bit easier!

There’ll be tears and laughter, and we shall miss them both....and the cheese, stories, conviviality, coffee, food and those little sweeties by the till.

‘Vibrant Newstead’ pursues good-for-community projects

NEWSTEAD has a new community project that’s fostering projects and exploring how the many little tasks that need doing around the town’s clubs, groups and organisations might get done.

The project is called Vibrant Newstead.

It’s being managed and overseen by Newstead21 Inc, the town’s major auspicing and collective community organisation.

N21 Inc contracted community development workers Joni Fitzgerald and Genevieve Barlow, both Newstead residents, to deliver Vibrant Newstead’s aims. N21Inc President Dimity Fifer said Joni and Gen would identify project ideas worth doing for Newstead’s benefit and work out what needs to be done to bring these projects to life and to find money / volunteers or both to back them up.

“We are aiming to identify at least six project concepts with those who want to pursue them, and to have them ready to fund. The projects will have to benefit the Newstead community,” said Dimity. “We also want to help groups find funding sources for their projects. Joni is working on identifying volunteering opportunities and breaking these into less onerous micro-tasks, and exploring how best to encourage people to do them. The project is being funded through a Victorian Government grant. It’s for six months only, so there is a lot to achieve in a short time.”

A report on the project’s achievements will be available when Vibrant Newstead finishes in late June. Find out more about Vibrant Newstead at: newstead2021.org/vibrant-newstead/

Comedy For A Cause

IF you enjoy a good laugh, and you’re over the age of 18, put this event in your diary: Comedy For A Cause, which will be held at the Maldon Community Centre on Saturday 27 April, starting at 8pm.

A fundraiser for Maldon Primary School, the event received strong community support when it ran for the first time last year. The message from the School is: book your tickets early!

Comedy For A Cause will feature three comedians from the Sydney and Melbourne International Comedy Festival with a professional emcee directing traffic. The standard of comedy will be high, with a broad audience appeal. It’s a theatre-style format, so there is no need to organise a table. Simply buy your tickets - maybe singly, or many if you’re coming in a group - and show up at the door.

You’ll be treated to two hours of next level comedy, with a 20 minute intermission where the School will hold some silent auctions and raffles to raise extra funds.

The actual line-up of comedians will be announced four to six weeks before the event. Tickets are $40 (and remember, it’s for 18+) and are available from comedyforacause.net/MPS. You’ll be able to buy refreshments on the night, including alcohol.

Comedy For A Cause guarantees a night of fun and laughs, while raising funds for Maldon Primary School.

LIZ SULLIVAN Shining Through, 2024 Acrylic and Oil on Board 120 x 160 cm.

Cascade reopens with a Wild Parterre

Kareen on IMT with Nancy.

CASCADE Art Gallery reopened on Thursday 29 February (it's a Leap Year!). After a hiatus caused by complex renovations to the building, Kareen Anchen - Gallery Director, has pulled out all the stops and is planning four 'Seasons of Exhibition Excellence'. The opening exhibition will be of Liz Sullivan's paintings which are very detailed close-up depictions of flowers, grasses and water in an ordered chaos. They make you feel as if you were in amongst the vegetation. The Exhibition is titled Wild Parterre.

LIZ SULLIVAN Lily Pads for Luck, 2024 Acrylic and Oil on Board 120 x 150 cm.

Kareen said, "The Gallery focus has been to build a season of exhibitions by professional and highly emerging visual artists. We are extremely excited to have the 2024-2025 calendar programmed and confirmed. Every artist we have asked has given a resounding YES! We are over the moon with our lineup of exceptionally talented and inspiring artists who will exhibit their art with us here in Maldon."

At 4pm on Saturday 2 March, Robyn Burgess, also a practising artist and former lecturer in painting and drawing for over 20 years at Latrobe University, will officially open the Wild Parterre exhibition. All are welcome, it is a free event, and no bookings are required.

Liz Sullivan's genre is predominately figurative, landscape and sometimes portraiture. Wild Parterre features large, exquisitely rendered paintings of wild grasses, waterways, waterlilies and sometimes goldfish. Parterre is usually referred to as a flat area in a garden with a formal arrangement of plants and flowers. When you look at Liz's paintings, the title becomes obvious: they are of wild grasses and weeds in the natural environment, definitely not a formal garden. "Instead of stopping to smell the roses, Liz stops to see the weeds."

Kareen is an ardent admirer of painting, having studied painting herself. She says of Liz, "Sullivan is primarily an oil painter and works on solid gesso-primed boards. The approach is quite deliberate and fast, blocking in with acrylic and then building up with oil paint. There is a vigorous sketchy drawn quality to her mark-making. Sullivan will sit on the ground for hours to get into the rhythm of building up layers and layers, often working from all four sides of the picture plane. Unlike classic studio easel painters, Sullivan does not step back to see the work, preferring to stay face-to-face and up close until much later in the process of making a painting."

As Liz has written, "I have the freedom of using what is around me and the energy of my surroundings and memory to think 'well, I am painting my interpretation and am aware of but not answerable to the past and to reality'.

It is the voice inside my head where reflections, the playing of light on form and shadow and the flat painting surface is not restricted by one viewpoint. Lines can overlap, colour and rhythms can compete and harmonise and the mind can be an adventure." Liz Sullivan recently completed a series of portrait studies of distinguished feminist, academic and author, Germaine Greer. These paintings are earmarked for consideration in several major Australian portrait prizes.

Liz Sullivan will be presenting and discussing her work in an Artist's Floor Talk at 2pm, on Sunday 17 March 2024.

Wild Parterre is part of the sixth ARTS OPEN Studios which is designed to promote regional visual arts on Dja Dja Wurrung country in historic Maldon, Castlemaine, Newstead and Taradale. It is a great opportunity to visit studios and galleries within the Mount Alexander Shire. March 9/10/11 and 16/17 2024. Full details at www.artsopen.com.au.

Cascade Art Gallery opening hours are 10am to 5pm from Thursday to Sunday. For Further information: Call Kareen on 0408 844 152.

Vale Jim Millwood

4/11/1942 – 10/02/2024

WELL-KNOWN and loved Maldon identity, Jim Millwood, died of COVID-related complications and underlying Parkinson’s Disease on Saturday, 10 February.

He was one of my oldest and best friends.

We met in Canberra in 1967.

The man was so many things. He had an Honours Degree in Psychology, a Bachelor of Economics and an MBA. He was a Banker and a Statistician in Canberra, then in 1997 became a highly sought-after Market Research guru in Melbourne.

He was also a racing driver with the hottest Cooper S in the ACT, who liked to set his own lap records around the Canberra Lake at dawn before the police patrols were awake. He raced on the touring car and hill-climb circuits. He played drums. He painted and made pottery. He was the sober, thoughtful man in the suit and polished shoes who set fire to his apartment when experimenting with highly-flammable paints. Who went out to buy a second-hand station wagon and came back with a Lotus Europa.

He married Pam on 29 November 1969. It was to be one of the longest and strongest marriages of my generation. We lost touch somewhere around the millennium. In 2007 we caught up in Sydney after I’d told them that I had changed gender. An act which cost me my family and most of my friends. But not them. They were people who lived by their principles and their principles were, and are, some of the finest I know. Their exquisitely-renovated Melbourne apartment became a haven for me in the dark days following my Transition.

They shifted to Maldon in 2009 and invited me to stay in 2010 when my time was up in Sydney.

By then Jim’s Parkinson’s Disease was manifesting strongly. To see a man of such intellect, probing intelligence, and instinctive integrity take on that battle with such dignity and his deep, dark humour was a heartbreak.

“I’m on this new medication,” he told me. “It’s supposed to alleviate the symptoms. What I’d like to do is go down to the local racetrack and set my fastest time in a Go-cart without the meds. Then take the meds and see how much I improve! But I don’t think Pam’ll let me.”

That was the scientist and the devil in him. Or the statistician and the artist. I see the scientist and the artist in his children. Shelley, the vet. Grayson, the choreographer/dancer/theatre artist. Above all I saw a quiet man of deep reserve and of deep compassion.

Some time before he died he pondered on how his and my lives had taken such different arcs. He had chosen the outwardly conservative life and I one of chaos, uncertainty and movement. Yet, in the end, we were both getting old together in Maldon. And, in the end, it was his values that shone through: integrity and honour and a life lived to the full. Farewell, dear friend.

Josie Emery

THE PINK POODLE

Bris-Vegas it definitely was not no comparison on any level with the city I left behind, Melbourne this destination after such a long road trip was under-whelming a northern city boasting one high-rise Pearl Insurance Transporting daily into the CBD on soon to be de-commissioned electric cable buses swinging and swaying from centre lane to kerbside reality hit me in only one month my colleagues were very old school, unequivocally staid and boring.

Newstead Open Studios art trail is a locally inspired and crafted event, held annually since 2015 and based in and around Newstead, in the heart of Victoria's goldfields region. This, our tenth-year, features 10 studios with 17 artists participating. The venues range from a historic brick hall in Sandon, an original timber shop in Newstead, a goods shed and a variety of bespoke sheds and workspaces.

Each year, we open our studios to you, our visitors. There will be plenty of beautiful and diverse art for sale at each studio. This is an opportunity to see ceramics, sculptures, paintings, prints and drawings, jewellery, glass and mixed media.

Visiting a studio is special: come inside, look around and ask questions and we'll happily share a story or two about what we make and why. It's a feast for the senses.

Pick up a guide to the art trail in Newstead at 12 Lyons Street or at Castlemaine Visitor Information Centre or download it from our website, newsteadopenstudios.org.

Newstead Open Studios art trail is part of Arts Open, an event across the Mount Alexander Shire: full details at www.artsopen.com.au.

Natural Newstead

Down the rabbit hole ...
EARLIER this week, as we were travelling home from the coast via Kooroocheang, I was reminded of what I think is a remnant stand of Silver Banksia on Wilsons Road. A short diversion was taken to capture some images – a task I had been meaning to complete for some years. The roadside plants at Kooroocheang are tall shrubs, with a handful of regenerating seedlings. They were laden with flowers in various stages of development. I'm sure a visit in the early morning would reveal local honeyeaters supping on the nectar.

Silver Banksia Banksia marginata is now rare in central Victoria although it often features in revegetation projects and as a garden specimen. The Traditional Owners of central Victoria, the Dja Dja Wurrung, know this species as wurrak, and it was valued for a multitude of uses – the nectar as a sugary drink, the wood shaped into needles for weaving, the dried flowers to strain drinking water, to list just a few.
Now to the rabbit hole ...

Silver Banksia was colloquially known as native honeysuckle and some of the early survey maps are annotated to show the location of honeysuckle. So, off I went to the Public Records Office Victoria in search of a map that I recall looking at some years ago. I'm not sure if I found this same map, but I did find what I was after – Plan of the Upper Part of the Loddon and Coliban Rivers and their tributaries also Mount Alexander, a beautifully hand drawn and shaded map from the mid-1800s (the map is undated but was apparently drawn before the township of Newstead was surveyed around 1860).

There, just north of Kooroocheang (marked KOORAT-YANG) were the words – Undulating grassy land timbered very lightly in places with Lightwood and Honeysuckle. I would love to be able to jump in a time-machine and walk through the groves of Honeysuckle and Lightwood (Acacia implexa)!

Over the years we've planted a number of Silver Banksias in our home garden. Most have failed to thrive, apart from one specimen that is now a healthy tall shrub. Until this morning I had never enjoyed seeing a flower spike, in fact I had rarely taken a close look until I spotted one earlier on a Silver Banksia at the Newstead Arts Hub. Planted a number of years back this one is now thriving in a spot where it would have once flourished.

An oil painting of a mouse with large, upright ears, wearing a green and brown patterned trench coat. The mouse is sitting and reading a large, open newspaper. It holds a white mug with a brown rim in its right paw. The background is dark and textured, suggesting an indoor setting with foliage. The overall style is realistic with visible brushstrokes.

Straying stock

REBECCA Hamilton, a merino farmer at Bradford, took the opportunity at last week’s Council meeting to advise Councillors about the increasing problem of stray stock - both in Mount Alexander Shire and the City of Greater Bendigo.

Local Laws attended recently when a stray sheep was caught, its ear tag was not scanned and it was put over the nearest fence. The sheep did not belong to the farmer and could have infected the flock with a disease. In that particular instance.

Mrs Hamilton pointed out that her farm has 16,000 breeding ewes with up to 40,000 sheep on the farm during lambing; the potential cost of one stray sheep with a disease contaminating that number of stock is enormous.

Mrs Hamilton emphasised the need for biosecurity awareness and suggested GPS trackers and contact with local farmers as ways of dealing with stray livestock. She indicated that she was keen to read the Shire’s policy regarding stray animals.

Michael Annear Director Infrastructure and Development apologised for the error that was made by the Local Laws officer. It would appear from his reply that the policy regarding stray animals would be reviewed as a result of Mrs Hamilton’s input.

MALDON
BRIDGE CLUB

ODDS ON FAVOURITES
– EASY WINNERS

ALL roads led to our weekly venue for another get-together to play the game we call Bridge! Given the very hot day we were very happy to have a large group arrive, eager to contest the cards on offer, and the pleasant conditions at the Maldon Hotel were welcomed by all.

The draw was quickly organised by Danny, and partners sorted, with the odds-on favourites couple drawn to play! Namely, Danny and Ken, who no doubt started as scorching $1.40 favourites to take out the top place for the day. There were calls for a handicap to be applied, but to no avail, as it was game on for all as we ‘raced’ to the finish line! Time was to tell if the favourites would indeed be victorious.

The cards were a mixed lot with low-point hands, and the occasional high-point hand helped in scoring a contract or two. Some doubles were attempted – some won and some lost, which was Fred’s lot, and an excited glee could be heard when a double went down! Or perhaps that was when one was won?

At the end of play, the scores were tallied and quickly transferred to the computer for the final tally. It was not a surprise to hear that the odds-on favourites were victorious, with Danny and Ken showing their combined skills to ‘romp’ into first place with 85 points. It was a hat trick for Ken, and double congratulations were well-earned!

A place bet was the order of the day for the rest of the field, with varying odds, and in second place were Newstead Jo and Judy Mac, perhaps about six to one, with 74 points.

Third place went to Sandy and Annie with 65 points, followed by an equal fourth, which the photo finish could not separate, between Aileen and Liz, along with Lyn and Kevin with 62 points each.

We always look forward to a quiet time at the afternoon tea break to gather our thoughts and this week to enjoy the Devonshire tea on offer. Thank you to the Maldon Hotel team on their hospitality on such a hot day. Much appreciated by all.

That is it for this week until we meet again. So long!

Whatever your age group or skills please feel free to join us each Thursday at the Maldon Hotel 1.15 pm to 4.30 pm to help us in our endeavours to

BLAST FROM THE PAST

MBLC 1935 syllabus cover.

Motto Through Literature To Life.

THE BOOK LOVERS CLUB

THE Maldon Book Lovers Club held its first meeting at the home of Miss Effie Laidler on the evening of 3 May 1935. Most of the Club’s members were women who were also members of the Maldon branch of the C.W.A.. Club members took turns to host meetings at their homes.

A week following its foundation the Club again met at Effie Laidler’s home to discuss a “modern play”, J.M. Barrie’s What Every Women Knows. During 1935 the Club then met fortnightly to discuss works including Basil Mathews’ Clash of Color, a study of race relations in the British Empire, Nathan Spievogel’s Old Eko’s Note Books, a novel based on the author’s experiences as a teacher in the Wimmera and Shakespeare’s Taming of the Shrew. The Club also held discussions of humorous plays and Australian poetry and prose. They wound up their year in December with a bush ramble and a discussion of Cobbers, a recent sympathetic account of Australians by the Englishman, Dr Thomas Wood.

A feature of the Club was the charming syllabuses produced each year. These small hand made booklets contained the Club’s schedule of meetings, listing for each meeting the date, subject and name of the hostess. The cover was usually a sketch or watercolour with the Club’s motto, “Through Literature to Life”. Inside the cover were the Club’s objectives. These included the cultivation of a taste for reading and members’ powers of observation and thought. The Club also sought to broaden the views of its members and provide them with opportunities to express their opinions. Both the Maldon Museum and the Athenaeum have collections of these syllabuses.

While the Club invited men to join, its membership was overwhelmingly female. From lists of hostesses and also autographs on syllabuses in the Museum’s collection, the average Club membership was probably about twelve and included several teachers posted to the Maldon State School.

Apart from literary discussions, Club meetings also included visiting speakers, usually talking about their overseas travel, and picture nights at the Royal Theatre in High Street. Each year in May the Club held a birthday meeting to commemorate the anniversary of its formation.

In 1937 the Club’s celebrated its birthday with a “Go As You Are, Humorous Evening”. Several visitors attended the meeting and a number of members wore fancy dress based on the books that the Club had discussed. During the meeting Club president Florence Kelly cut a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

The Club was not afraid to discuss social, political and international issues. Its 1945 syllabus included titles such as What Chance Has Your Child?, Housing the Australian Nation, What About India? and Patterns for Peace.

Library News

Monster Book Sale, World Wildlife Day and World Book Day

AS part of the All of Town Garage Sale, this Saturday 2 March, the Maldon Athenaeum Library will be having a Monster Book Sale starting at 9am, (97 High Street, next to the Post Office). Good quality, bargain-priced novels and children’s books will be offered, as well as gardening and cookbooks, biographies, and other non-fiction books. All proceeds support the Maldon Athenaeum Library and allow us to keep the lights on and purchase more books for your pleasure and enjoyment.

World Wildlife Day and World Book Day

World Wildlife Day is an annual global event dedicated to wildlife. People everywhere rely on wildlife and natural eco-systems, not just to meet their needs but also for the pleasure they give us. Research has found that spending time in nature reduces stress and increases happiness. There is evidence for associations between nature exposure and improved cognitive function, brain activity, blood pressure, mental health, physical activity and sleep. Living in Maldon and the Central Goldfields we are surrounded by nature and wildlife. So, let’s continue to enjoy and benefit from wildlife and celebrate the important conservation work being done around the world.

This week also marks World Book Day. Celebrate both events by checking the following areas of the library shelves:

environment and sustainability, Australian flora and fauna, gardening and children’s books.

Here are some suggestions from adult non-fiction:

- Natural Pest and Disease Control - Controlling your garden organically (Jim Hay)
- Meadowland: The Private Life of an English Field (John Lewis-Stempel)
- Declining Woodland Animals in the Maldon-Castlemaine Area (Alison Jeayons & Peter Morrison)
- The Sacred Balance: Rediscovering our Place in the World (David Suzuki)
- Country: Future Fire, Future Farming (Bill Gammage & Bruce Pascoe)
- Plants: Past, Present and Future (Zena Cumpston, Michael-Shaw Fletcher & Lesley Head)

The last two are part of the First Knowledges series, 2020-2023, recently purchased by the library. Each book in the series is a collaboration between Indigenous and non-Indigenous writers and editors, published in partnership with the National Museum of Australia.

And some suggestions from the junior section of the library:

- Singing for Joeys (Trace Balla)
- Walk of the Whales (Nick Bland)
- A-Z of Australian Wildlife (Nan McNab)

The Australian author Tim Winton notes the reluctance of publishers and critics (and readers!) to allow ‘the drama and jeopardy of the natural world’ to be at the centre of literature. In his essay Writing in Nature (The Monthly, December 2023), Winton writes of the ‘mystery and power of words’ and the potential readership for whom an author can provide ‘soul food and courage’. Writers need to use this agency to fight for the survival of wildlife and natural ecosystems. And we need to encourage them by reading their books.

Book Reviews

Meadowland: The Private Life of an English Field* by John-Lewis Stempel, 2014

Meadowland gives a unique and intimate account of an English meadow’s life from January to December, together with its biography. In exquisite prose, John Lewis-Stempel records the passage of the seasons from cowslips in spring to the hay-cutting of summer and grazing in autumn and includes the biographies of the animals that inhabit the grass and the soil beneath: the badger clan, the fox family, the rabbit warren, the skylark brood and the curlew pair, among others. Their births, lives, and deaths are stories that thread through the book from the first page to the last.

The Sacred Balance* by David Suzuki, 1997

The economy and global competitiveness are the bottom line for society and governments, or so says conventional wisdom. But what are the real needs that must be satisfied to live rich, fulfilling lives? This is the question David Suzuki explores in this wide-ranging study. Suzuki begins by presenting the concept of people as creatures of the Earth who depend on its gifts of air, water, soil, and sun energy. He shows how people are genetically programmed for the company of other species and suffer enormously when we fail to live in harmony with them. He analyses those deep spiritual needs rooted in nature that are also a crucial component of a loving world. Drawing on his own experiences and those of others who have put their beliefs into action, The Sacred Balance is a powerful, passionate book with concrete suggestions for creating an ecologically sustainable, satisfying, and fair future by rediscovering and addressing humanity’s basic needs.

Plants: Past, Present and Future* by Zena Cumpston et al., 2022

What do you need to know to prosper as a people for at least 65,000 years? The First Knowledges series provides a deeper understanding of the expertise and ingenuity of Indigenous Australians.

Plants are the foundation of life on Earth. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples have always known this to be true. For millennia, reciprocal relationships with plants have provided both sustenance to Indigenous communities and many of the materials needed to produce a complex array of technologies. Managed through fire and selective harvesting and replanting, the longevity and intricacy of these partnerships are testament to the ingenuity and depth of Indigenous first knowledges. Plants: Past, Present and Future celebrates the deep cultural significance of plants and shows how engaging with this heritage could be the key to a healthier, more sustainable future.

Into the Night by Fleur McDonald, 2023

Detective Dave Burrows is devastated. After an acrimonious divorce, Dave has no choice but to let his ex-wife and her father, Mark, call the shots: supervised, one-hour visits are all he’s allowed if he wants to see his two young daughters. And he knows he’ll jump through any hoops to see Bec and Alice. On Leo Perry’s farm, 60 kilometres out of Yorkenup, the only positive in Leo’s day is the unswerving loyalty of his dog, Coffee. Thanks to yet another power outage, Leo is out in the morning heat, refuelling the water pump. But seconds later he watches in horror as the tank explodes. Flames engulf wooden beams, and sparks ignite grass just as Leo realises he’s at the end of a one-way petrol trail, the fire roaring straight for him. When Dave and his partner, Detective Bob Holden, are called to Leo’s ravaged farm, they’re unclear if they’re dealing with arson, suicide or something else. There’s been no sign of Leo anywhere, and his wife Jill is distraught. Leo and his dog appear to have vanished. But, when Dave and Bob begin their investigation, what they find makes no sense at all.

Seven Moons of Maali Almeida* by Shehan Karunatilaka, 2023

Colombo,1990. Maali Almeida, war photographer, gambler, and closet queen, has woken up dead in what seems like a celestial visa office. His dismembered body is sinking in the serene Beira Lake, and he has no idea who killed him. In a country where scores are settled by death squads, suicide bombers, and hired goons, the list of suspects is depressingly long, as the ghouls and ghosts with grudges who cluster around can attest. But even in the afterlife, time is running out for Maali. He has seven moons to contact the man and woman he loves most and lead them to the photos that will rock Sri Lanka.

TODAY Loz and Lynette talk with Chris Green about blowing his own trumpet (which is not a smaller version of an orange criminal narcissist).

Last Friday Elizabeth and Nancy chatted to Kareen Anchen about the reopening of the Cascade Art Gallery on 29 February after renovations: the exhibition space is expanded and storage is enhanced. Kareen has pulled out all stops and is planning four ‘Seasons of Exhibition Excellence’. The opening exhibition will be of Liz Sullivan’s paintings which are very detailed close-up depictions of flowers, grasses and water in an ordered chaos titled Wild Parterre. It is part of the sixth ARTS OPEN Studios. It is a great opportunity to visit 80 studios and galleries within the Mount Alexander Shire. March 9/10/11 and 16/17 2024.

Next week Maldon architect Brad Hooper takes as his text, What does Citizen Heritage mean? If you assume it means getting seriously old – or you just haven’t a clue – you’d better listen as he explains all to EC and Nancy. The show will also feature Viv Markham’s occasional cameo piece, Where the Bodies are Buried.

Walkin', talkin', and dog-tail waggin'

BRENDA Shingles is one of the Dhelkaya Health volunteers who heads the social walking groups that meet at the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre every Monday and Friday at 9.30am. “When we finish the walk, which is the exercise part, we come back here to the Neighbourhood Centre and we sit down, have a cup of coffee, and just have a general chinwag,” said Brenda. “You just turn up, we head out... you can simply take in the surroundings or chat away about anything or nothing in particular.”

Depending on the weather, it might be a quick walk around the outside of the town. Or a walk towards the North British mine, the South German mine...

“There are lots of people in the walking group who are very knowledgeable on the local history. So, if you see the ‘V’ on the hill while out walking, there’ll be someone in the group to explain what it’s about.”

Brenda said you should have good walking shoes, some sun protection, and to bring water to hydrate yourself. Dogs are welcome but need to be well controlled and on a lead at all times. “Monday and Friday start at 9.30am. Tuesday is ‘brisk walk’ day starting at 7.30am,” said Brenda.

Every third Monday of the month, there’s an out-of-town bus trip. “Once a month, we go further afield. It’s a great way to learn about other country towns just beyond Maldon.”

Why not join the next walking group – Monday, Tuesday, or Friday. Meet under the oak tree at the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre at 1 Church Street. For any enquiries, phone 5475 2093 9am to 3.30pm every weekday except Wednesday. Or go to: maldonnc.org.au.

Barry Robinson

Every Monday and Friday at 9.30am are ‘social’ walks.
Tuesdays at 7.30am are ‘brisk’ walks.

CRACK! CRUNCH! RING-RING!

What concerns might need reporting? Let us know here: editor@tarrangowertimes.com.au, or DIY Council customer service on 5471 1700.

LAST week in Maldon's Main Street, the familiar sound of 'CRACK! CRUNCH!' could be heard when the back wheel of a reversing car somehow managed to find its way onto a pedestrian timber crossing.

Thanks to the swift action of a good samaritan, a witch's hat was taken from some other hazard spot it was guarding to its new guard post. No doubt there are hazardous spots here and there that need to be reported. The most common thing that happens? We assume someone else has already done the reporting.

DIY reporting is easy. You can go the Council website and search for 'Report an Issue'. There you'll find topics including bin collection, drainage and flooding, fire hazards, damaged buildings, graffiti, potholes, road maintenance, rubbish dumping, signs, trees and pruning, and... footpaths and trails. DIY reporting can be easier still – simply phone 5471 1700 and Customer Service will log the issue or concern for you.

And, yes, for the record, the damage to the timber pedestrian crossover has been reported.

Percival: Big, beautiful, and in need of love

Percival is a male, desexed, 5 year old, ginger tabby domestic medium hair. Percival is a big beautiful boy who loves having attention from the people he trusts and is very affectionate. He does take a little while to warm up to people, so he needs to find a home with a person/family who will give him time to settle in. He enjoys spending time hanging out on the couch or exploring in the garden. He requires a home with no children and no other pets. Microchip no. 956000010560729 Adoption fee $150. # Doggos OF THE Goldfields

Introducing our readers to their local doggies
and what makes their tails wag!

TT: Hey there little scamp! What's your name?

Kiki (with a cheeky grin): Me!? Well, I'm Kiki, the Pomeranian with more personal-ity than fur – and that's saying something!

TT: What's your age, Kiki?

Kiki (doing a little twirl): I'm 10 years fabulous, aging like fine wine... if wine was fluffy and barked!

TT: And who's your favorite human?
Kiki (wagging tail wildly): Michele, my human, my hero, my snack-sharer. Best in show, every show!
TT: What's your gourmet preference?
Kiki: Ah, the age-old question. I live by a simple philosophy: If Michele's eating it, then I'll eat it too!
TT: What about your hobbies?
Kiki (commences stretching): Walks are the best and twice a day if I can have it. Especially with a bonus horse and carriage chase! It's like the universe's treadmill, but with more drama and hoofs!
TT: And lastly, how do you unwind?
Kiki (yawning theatrically): Chasing those carriages in dreamland on cloud nine! When it comes to sleep, there is no waking this pup! I'm a world class sleep champion, I am!

Kiki is our Dog of the Week, 1 Feb, 2024.

LONG WEEKEND CAMPDRAFT EVENT

MAKE a note in your diary for the 9 March long weekend when Maldon Campdraft will be putting on a display of skill and agility at Racecourse Reserve, corner of Lewis and Bendigo Roads.

The event, scheduled to start at 6.30am on both Saturday and Sunday, invites locals and visitors alike to witness the thrilling sport of campdrafting, an Australian tradition that showcases the incredible partnership between rider and horse.

Organiser Tricia James extends a warm invitation to all, encouraging a $2 donation from attendees to help boost the event's first aid supplies. A collection tin will be conveniently located on the right-hand side of the gate as guests drive in. Tricia emphasises that the donation is a small gesture towards ensuring the safety and preparedness of the event.

Campdrafting, often described as more complex than your average rodeo, offers the thrill of the chase without the need to travel to Queensland. Riders must demonstrate their skill in controlling cattle within a set course, including cutting out an animal from the herd, blocking and turning it, and finally guiding it through a figure-eight pattern. All of this must be accomplished in 40 seconds, making for a fast-paced and exciting spectacle.

The event, spanning two days due to the heats and finals of various competitions, promises to be an action-packed weekend that showcases the unique skills required. With restricted competitor numbers to ensure quality, the competition remains intense and engaging for both participants and spectators.

Tricia assures that while the competition may be fierce, the welfare of the cattle remains a priority, with no harm coming to the animals involved. The only risk, she jokes, may be to the spectators' vocal cords as they cheer on their favourite competitors.

Karen Sloan

SOCIABLE PÉTANQUE

A small but select group of Maldon social petanquers met at the Penny School piste on Sunday. Despite the afternoon temperature being just a tad below what is required for cancellation, we played two games without too much flagging.

As the El Presidente stand-in had forgotten the chocolates and refused to go to the shop, we only had our pride to play for! The winners were the hard-to-beat Jenny and Kevin with two wins +6 points, with Antoine, Cap'n P and EC coming in second with one win +4 points, followed by Carole and Steve also one win +2 points. Lucky last but without chockies to share were Joan, Judy and Phil, 0 wins -12 points.

It was an instructive afternoon with Phil claiming that petanque means playing with feet together - photos show him making this statement rather emphatically, with Joan providing the perfect example of how it is done. It was later decided by the brains trust that petanque means 'foot fixed' or 'foot planted'. No further discussion needed!

Judy Hopley

MALDON BOWLS CLUB

THE 2023-2024 Pennant Season is coming to an end and the Grand final for both Divisions will be played tomorrow, 2 March. Both games will be held at Avoca Bowling Club starting at 1.30pm. Division 2 Grand Final will be contested between Maryborough Highland Society Red and Talbot Brown. Maldon finished the season in sixth position.

The Division 1 Grand Final will be between Maryborough Highland Society Tartan and Dunolly Blue.

Last Sunday, 25 February, four bowlers from Maldon competed in the annual Talbot 4's Tournament. The competition went for the entire day with four games of 10 ends. Teams came from many towns including Talbot, Clunes, Smeaton, Newstead, Maryborough and Maldon.

If you are interested in learning how to play Lawn bowls you are welcome to come and have a try. Times to come and have a try, Tuesday mornings 10am and Saturday afternoons 1pm.

Good Bowling all.

Peter Sedgwick

MALDON GOLF CLUB

LAST Saturday, golfers' anticipations and expectations were high with the opening Competition event for our new season. This year, golf has commenced four weeks earlier than normal due to the course having benefited from excellent spring and early summer rains with course conditions continuing to hold up very well with well-grassed fairways, although the greenness has disappeared over the last couple of weeks.

Members were thrilled to welcome Jane Hoiting, Executive Officer Community Bank Maldon & District, as the Club's guest and to commence the new season with the traditional opening-shot before Members hit-off. Jane then joined in the daily event played as a 3/4-player Ambrose Event, partnering President Glyn and Vice-President Amanda....no individual game pressure in this event as the best-positioned ball of the players is taken for the next shot. The expectation is that the resultant scores are generally close to the par score for the hole or better.
