Bowls Season Opens

Bendigo West Member Marcee Edwards, sending down the first ball: the Maldon Bowls Club's Pennant season is now officially open.

With a fresh coat of paint, the Maldon Bowls Club was looking spick and span last Sunday to celebrate the opening of the Pennant season. Bendigo West Member Marcee Edwards was invited to send down the first ball, the Castlemaine Bowls Club was invited to enjoy a day of friendly competition and everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch.

The Club has named Ms Edwards as its first VIP Honorary Member. To mark this occasion, Club President Lindsay Clark presented her with a Club shirt and badge, plus that must-have accessory: a Club stubby holder!

Ms Edwards thanked the Club for her membership, and pointed out that she had been coming to the Pennant season opening at the Bowls Club for 14 years.

"The Bowls Club is at the centre of the Maldon community," Ms Edwards said. "The volunteers are what makes it such an integral part of the town, and all praise to its very successful leadership team."

Ms Edwards paid tribute to the fact that the Club has attracted some young players, through the junior development program. "Bowls clubs are a great way to bring people together, to socialise and to have a laugh," she said. "It's also a good way to stay fit and be engaged with the community. The Maldon Bowls Club has a long and proud history, and may it continue to be an essential part of the town."

While the Maldon bowlers are looking forward to a successful Pennant season, they have also been enjoying their community nights. These nights provide people of all ages with the opportunity to play bowls, as well as enjoy some music and a friendly barbecue. According to Lindsay, the most recent community night was the best yet. "We had 80 people turn up," he said.

Council elections update

THE nominations for the upcoming Council elections in Mount Alexander have been finalised. In five out of the eight wards, only one candidate has nominated and so there is no requirement for those residents to vote.

It would appear that this is shaping up to be an interesting election. Before this year's electoral restructure of Mt Alexander Shire, there were five wards and seven councillors. There are now eight wards, with eight councillors. Following the election, there will be at least three new Councillors. And as mentioned above, there will be elections held for only three of the wards. Finally, depending upon the election outcomes, there could be something of a political, cultural and generational shift.

The three wards plus the candidates where voting packs will be sent out are:

Calder Ward

Cordy, Anthony
Price, Ken
Allen, Kerrie

Campbells Creek Ward

Thompson, Gavin
Maltby, Bill

Coliban Ward

Walker, Philip
Lesser, Max
Blake, Kelly Ann

After voting closes on 25 October, the following candidates will be declared elected to Council in these uncontested wards:

Barkers Creek

Annear, Rosie

Forest Creek

Heydon, Toby

Moonlight Creek

Maddock, Lucas

Loddon River

Driscoll, Matt

Tarrengower

Hastwell, Rosalie

The Times spoke to the two candidates who will be representing residents in the readership area: Matt Driscoll, who has already served one term as councillor and has spent the past year as Mayor, and newcomer Rosalie Hastwell.

Matt Driscoll

Matt Driscoll,
Loddon River Ward.

Matt is happy that nobody is standing against him in Loddon River ward, but is a little conflicted. "Have I done a really good job, or is it that nobody wanted to put their hand up?" he asked. "Because I do know that it's a hard gig sometimes. It doesn't pay much and councillors get bagged from time to time. Just as well I have a thick skin!"

One initiative that may have resulted in fewer nominations for Council is where potential candidates were invited to speak to either the Mayor, Deputy Mayor or the CEO about a councillor's role. "I must have spoken to at least 15 to 20 people about what it takes to be a councillor," Matt said. "This may have discouraged some people from standing. But ultimately, I'm surprised and disappointed that more people didn't nominate."

Matt believes that the most recent Council operated effectively, owing to its diversity of views. "You need that range, so that it reflects the diversity of the Shire's residents," he said. "We disagreed on lots of things, but we all got on well and were generally able to reach consensus. Sometimes you need to be taken out of your comfort zone to understand an issue."

In his time on Council and as Mayor, Matt has found that the most enjoyable part of his roles has been meeting a wide range of people. "Ninety-nine point nine per cent of people are great," he said. "That's the part of the job I love."

Other takeaways from the job? "Look, Council's a strange beast," he said. "What with Federal and State governments and then the people you represent, it's a difficult dance. And when I began, I naively thought that I could change more things. But honestly? You can change stuff around the edges, but at the end of the day you get pushed from all sides."

Matt's final words, on a subject that is obviously close to his heart: "Housing. If we're going to fix the housing crisis, the State laws must change. Without those changes, the crisis will continue," he said.

Rosalie Hastwell

Rosalie Hastwell,
Tarrengower Ward.

Like Matt Driscoll, Tarrengower Ward's Rosalie Hastwell is surprised that nobody nominated to stand against her. "I believe in democracy, and it's always good to have choice," she said. "In this instance, it wasn't to be."

Rosalie did point out, however, that the lack of candidates in the forthcoming council elections was a phenomenon seen across Victoria, and not confined to Mt Alexander Shire.

"One reason for the lack of candidates could be that there was a statewide requirement for all nominees to complete online training," Rosalie said. "It wasn't onerous, but it did clearly spell out a councillor's role. Maybe that meant people were better informed, and decided that being a councillor was not a good fit for them. They may have also come to that conclusion after speaking to the Mayor, the Deputy Mayor or the CEO. It was great that Council gave potential candidates the opportunity to have those discussions."

Clear-eyed and formidably well-informed, Rosalie is very much aware of the road ahead. "Councils are under a lot of pressure financially," she said, "and that is going to make the job even more challenging."

If there is to be a significant cultural and generational shift in the next Council, Rosalie welcomes it. "I think that fresh perspectives and a younger and more diverse council group would be good for the Shire," she said.

Reflecting on the assistance she has received since announcing her nomination, Rosalie said that she was hugely grateful for the groundswell of community support. "I feel very honoured and also very humbled, and I want to thank the community for their warm, generous and wise input," she said. "I look forward to working with the whole community."

Heritage meeting

Heritage-wise, Maldon might be Australia's First Notable Town - but has heritage fallen off the planning radar in recent years?

THERE was a time when Maldon was at the forefront of heritage planning in Australia. But has the town lost its way, in terms of conserving its built and natural landscapes?

Many believe that the short answer is: yes.

A group called the Maldon Heritage Network was formed in 2023, due to the perception that heritage values in Maldon have been slipping in recent years. Its members aim to preserve and protect the town's streetscapes, mining artefacts and landscapes as well as supporting the conservation of the area's indigenous heritage. By working with residents, government and relevant parties, the group wants to put heritage back on the public agenda.

A community meeting held by the Maldon Heritage Network last Wednesday night at the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre attracted an interested crowd of residents. Tarrengower Ward's new councillor-elect Rosalie Hastwell attended and contributed to the discussions.

With group member Robyn Ballinger directing traffic, a range of issues was covered.

They included:

- The closure of Carmans tunnel, with concern expressed at the loss of this tourist attraction and the perceived poor response from the government department responsible for its management.
- Significant trees - there are five trees over 500 years old in the township, with another five or six that are over 400 years old. These trees deserve greater protection.
- The town centre - new businesses moving in are not adhering to heritage guidelines when putting up signage or when painting the outside of shops. Also mentioned: 'demolition by neglect', with some old buildings falling into a sad state of disrepair.
- The proposed State Government planning regulations, which would overturn the old stipulation that a building should fit well into a neighbourhood - what are the implications for Maldon? Will these regulations override the town's heritage overlay?

- Housing strategy - While there is no doubt that new homes will be built on Maldon's outskirts, will it be possible to do this in such a way that the entrances to Maldon aren't 'trashed'?

One of the final comments on the night: "We need to get people talking about heritage again."

Last week's meeting was the second event organised by the Maldon Heritage Network. The first one was an event in July, where academic and town planner Trevor Budge delivered a presentation called Maldon's Heritage: Why does it matter? You can read this at maldonmuseum.com.au - go to the page titled 'Heritage Heros'.

Following the success of its first two events, the Maldon Heritage Network plans to promote Maldon's heritage through a range of activities. You can email them at maldonheritagenetwork@protonmail.me for further information and also keep an eye out for future events in the Times.

Vox Pop HERITAGE

THIS week, the Times interviewed six people in Maldon and asked them whether they thought heritage was an important issue for the town. Three of those interviewed were local, one was a weekender and the other two were visitors to Maldon.

The dog who managed to get in on the act is called Fenia, and she said that she had gained a fine appreciation of Maldon's heritage from her walks around town!

Sharon

It's the first time we've been back to Maldon in ages, and we just love all the old buildings. We'd forgotten what a beautiful place it is. Heritage is definitely important for Maldon. If you want any sort of modernity here, you'd have to be careful how you go about it so that it doesn't spoil the town.

John

Yes, heritage is very important. It's because there has been no change here that attracts people to the town. I really do hope that the town treasures its old buildings - looks after them and doesn't replace them.

Richard

If you're 100% genuine about heritage, you'd knock all the houses down, banish cars, roads and elm trees and let the bush take over! But being serious, heritage is why a lot of people choose to live here in the first place. It is important.

Brenda

Of course heritage is important - absolutely. Maldon is the First Notable Town, after all. But I'd still like to see the damage in some of the old buildings fixed up. It takes away from the positives of our heritage.

Barbara

Heritage is Maldon's life blood. Without heritage, Maldon wouldn't be what it is. It draws tourists to town - otherwise they wouldn't visit.

Jenny

Heritage is 100% important. Maldon is unique. Without its heritage, people wouldn't come here - Maldon would be just another small country town.

Maldon Pantry update

John Bainbridge Coordinator of Maldon Community Centre, showing a range of goods available at the Centre's Mini Pantry.

MALDON Community Pantry is fast approaching its first year of providing food relief to the local community. As the Pantry becomes better known, and as the cost of living continues to squeeze budgets, visitors to the Pantry have been steadily increasing since opening last November for a three week trial. For many of us, the stigma associated with needing some help still makes it difficult to pop into the Pantry to get some much-needed supplies. So, let me set the scene for you!

You'll wander into the grounds of the Holy Trinity Anglican Church at 50 High Street, and head towards the hall behind the church building. Up a couple of steps, and into the hall - one of the welcoming volunteers will say hello, introduce themselves, and if you're new to the Pantry show you about and answer any questions you might have. They'll leave you to choose items from the Pantry offerings (there are bags provided) and offer you a cuppa - the kettle is never far from boiled if you want to stay and chat. No-one is looking over your shoulder and no-one is asking you questions about your circumstances. What is important, is that you visit the Pantry on your own terms.

While the offerings available at the pantry will vary from week to week, we do try and ensure that a wide range of fresh and non-perishable food is available: bread (thank you to our wonderful Maldon Bakery who donates fresh-baked loaves each week), milk, eggs, tinned fruit, cereal options, fresh fruit and vegetables, soups, pasta, rice, tinned vegetables, condiments, yoghurt, drinks, and the list goes on. Thanks to the very generous local donations and support from the Regional Community Vet Clinic there is also some help to keep the furry members of your household fed. The Pantry is open 9am to 11am every Wednesday morning.

This week also sees the opening of the Maldon Neighbourhood 'Mini Pantry' - you can find it in the entrance of the hall and can access non-perishable tinned and bottled goods and long-life milk during opening hours (Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday 9am to 3.30pm). (If the hall is locked, pop into the office and someone will open the door.) It's a terrific initiative and will provide an important addition to local food relief.

So, next time you're stuck for some pantry staples, or you're just curious about the Pantry, please pop in! You will be joining the over 800 people who have visited or been supported by the Pantry since opening last year.

Those times and locations again: Maldon Community Pantry (here is where the larger range of food is found) 9am to 11am, every Wednesday, 50 High St (behind the Holy Trinity Anglican Church). And the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre Mini Pantry, 9am to 3.30pm, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 1 Church Street.

Teddy & Me closes

EARLIER this month, Teddy & Me's owner Marilyn Kennedy made the difficult decision to close her shop, which had been operating in Maldon since 1997. The Times caught up with Marilyn last week to talk about her time as a retailer.

It was while working at Monash University in the computer department that Marilyn developed a hankering to own a shop in a country town. Each week, she travelled into the city and bought a range of country newspapers from McGills Newsagency in Elizabeth Street. "I saw a notice advertising Teddy & Me, came and had a look at the shop and bought the business," Marilyn said.

Was she specifically after a shop that sold toys? "No," Marilyn said. "I would have been quite happy to have bought a shop selling other things - homewares, for instance. But Teddy & Me seemed to be a good fit. I don't drive, and Maldon has a bus and isn't far from a train station. Plus there was a flat above the shop that I could live in."

And so it was that Marilyn threw herself into the highs and lows of owning a shop in Maldon. While building up a loyal customer base, she also made some changes to her stock, including specialising in collectable toys that appealed to adults as well as children.

As a shopkeeper, Marilyn had a gentle manner and was generous with her time and expertise. Teddy & Me became a popular shop, with many repeat customers.

The pros of being a shop owner? "I loved the independence of being the one making the decisions," Marilyn said. "And I really enjoyed the relationships

I had with my customers - many of who have become friends."

The cons? In all the time that Marilyn owned her shop, she was unable to take a holiday. Apart from being on the Maldon Inc committee for some years, she had little time for outside activities. Another fly in the ointment: after 21 years of operating her shop out of the same building, Marilyn had to move to other premises. "I only wish I'd been able to buy the building," she said. "Then I would have had complete independence."

In her 27 years as a shop owner, Marilyn has seen many businesses come and go. "Everything comes in waves," she said, "with shops and businesses opening and then closing. Then there's another cycle and it begins again."

At present, Marilyn is living with a cancer diagnosis and is undergoing treatment. "I tried keeping the shop open only on weekends for a while, but it became too difficult for me," she said.

In the meantime, Marilyn is adjusting to retirement and keeping as well as she possibly can, under difficult circumstances. But she has no regrets about her decision to move to Maldon and buy a business. "I'd do it all over again," she said. "I love the town, the people are wonderful and I've enjoyed my time at Teddy & Me."

Viv Markham

A familiar face in a familiar shop - Marilyn, you will be greatly missed!

Celebrating forty years - but still going strong

STAFF and residents at the Maldon Hospital came together for a special afternoon tea recently to celebrate Kath Hanson's 40 years of service at the Maldon Hospital.

Kath's career at the Hospital began on 1 September 1984, and as a permanent part-timer she has worked in a range of positions over the years. In that time, she has seen many changes.

"Back in the earlier days, all the staff had to wear dresses, and just look out if you wanted to show your knees, especially with Matron checking each morning," Kath said.

Kath recalls the days when all meals for the Hospital and for Meals on Wheels were cooked on-site. "No frozen veggies," she said. "Veggies were peeled and cooked as needed and all food was fresh daily from the local outlets. At Christmas time, all the Christmas puddings would hang in the kitchen."

Another significant change, according to Kath, is the increase in admin. tasks. "There wasn't much paperwork years ago but now we have inspections, accreditation, work cover, external safety audits, cleaning audits and the list goes on!"

Like her mother, Kath has always been a great supporter of the Maldon Hospital. "My mother baked, mended sheets and babies' nappies, knitted bonnets, booties and bed socks and did whatever else was needed," Kath said.

Over the years, Kath has supported the Hospital in a range of different ways. She was a member of the Hospital Auxiliary for over 20 years and held the position of President for 14 years. When there was a shortfall of $100,000 for the new building, Kath was on a committee that was able to raise $129,000 in just 18 months - a great achievement for a small town. She has also served on the committee formed to celebrate the Hospital's 150th anniversary, the Quality Committee and has organised staff reunions. And then there were all the Hospital's Easter floats over the years. "Sunday afternoon was spent decorating the truck at the back of the Hospital, then Monday morning it was time for the finishing touches before we jumped on board for the parade," Kath said.

When Kath first started at the Hospital, staff would tell her that they had been working there for 10 to 20 years. "My response was, get a life!" Kath said. "I didn't know at the time that I would become one of those people."

Why has Kath stayed so long? "With some people staying for 10, 20 and 30 years of service, that minimal staff turnover proves that it's a wonderful place to work," she said. "It's a small facility that has a family-like atmosphere."

Kath paid tribute to the loyalty, commitment and friendship that all of the staff at Maldon Hospital have shown to her. "The staff are outstanding," she said. "They work hard to create a service that the community can be proud of."

So has Kath retired? Well, no - she enjoys her job too much! Let's call it transition to retirement. Her hours have reduced, and she now works for 25 hours a fortnight. And Kath loves spending time with the residents and patients; listening to their stories and popping in a joke here and there.

"Kath chips in and helps out where needed," General Manager & Director of Nursing Shannon Uren said. "For instance, there was a time in recent months when there was a COVID outbreak among the nursing staff. Kath came in and worked as a nursing assistant and she was a Godsend."

When she's not up at the Hospital, Kath enjoys gardening, reading and going uptown to enjoy a coffee and a chat. She is also a very modest woman, who has been reluctant to tell her story.

But it's a story that's worth telling!

Celebrating local newspapers

WORLD News Day on Saturday 28 September is a fitting moment to highlight the vital role that local journalism plays in sustaining rural communities.

While global headlines often dominate attention, it is the local stories that matter most to the day-to-day lives of people across Australia. It is public interest journalism that connects residents with their local councils, businesses, and neighbours in ways that larger media outlets often overlook.

Country Press Australia represents over 230 member newspapers, each of which serves as an essential voice in its community. Whether it's covering local elections, holding regional authorities to account or celebrating community achievements, local papers ensure that the concerns of their readers are brought to the forefront.

Public interest journalism is the cornerstone of a healthy democracy. In a world increasingly overwhelmed by misinformation and sensationalism, local newspapers stand out as bastions of fact-based, reliable news.

At Country Press Australia, our mission is to uphold the highest standards of journalism while reflecting the true character of the communities we serve.

The rise of social media has undoubtedly revolutionised how we share and access information, but it has also brought with it a troubling surge in disinformation. Social media's often unregulated content flow leaves many questioning what is real and what isn't, which can harm the very foundations of informed public discourse.

In contrast, the newspapers that make up Country Press Australia continue to provide a much-needed antidote to this information chaos. Our journalists work tirelessly to ensure that the news we deliver is accurate, balanced, and rooted in the realities of the communities we cover.

The core mission of local journalism remains unchanged: to inform, to hold the powerful to account, and to serve the public good. Our members are committed to this mission. By supporting your local newspaper, you are not only helping to keep your community informed but also supporting the crucial role of public interest journalism in upholding democracy.

Together, we can ensure that facts, fairness, and community spirit continue to guide our regional, rural, and local towns towards a brighter future.

Democracy Debate

Bryn Davies will be moderator on the night.

Taking part in the event are three speakers: Chris Dickinson - an economics teacher and academic who for the past seven years has taught Geopolitics and Economics classes at U3A.

Dr Denis Muller - Honorary Senior Research Fellow at the Centre for Advancing Journalism at Melbourne University and the author of several books. He has worked in editorial roles for the Sydney Morning Herald and The Age and writes regularly for The Conversation.

Janice Simpson - taught politics and social economics at RMIT. She is an activist in Maryborough promoting the development of a Maryborough-Castlemaine rail trail.

The moderator on the night will be Bryn Davies. Bryn is an experienced facilitator who has been involved in the Mount Alexander based Democracy for Dinner and of late in the Really Local group. These apolitical, not-for-profit groups encourage locals to take an interest in politics. In other words: democracy at a local level.

The event, priced at a very reasonable $5, will run for 90 minutes and you are invited to stay on for dinner (at your own cost) to continue the conversation.

To book, go to <https://tinyurl.com/2w72axx2>

WHAT is a democracy? Do we live in a truly democratic society? What are the current threats to democracies, both in Australia and globally? What is the role of media in a democracy?

You can find out the answer to these questions in a Central Goldfields Words In Winter event called Has Democracy Like Elvis Left the Building? This issue will be thoroughly debated on Thursday 3 October at the Maryborough Highland Society at 5.15pm for a 5.30pm start.

Leave the car at home

All public transport will run to a Saturday timetable today (Friday 27 September), although there will be some additional train and tram services. The free tram zone has been extended to the MCG, with extra services running along Collins and Flinders Street.

More than 450,000 people are expected to attend the Royal Melbourne Show, with trains departing every 10 to 15 minutes. There will also be extra tram services for Route 57, which travels between Elizabeth Street and the Showgrounds.

Classic cars bring nostalgia to Newstead

THREE very different vintage cars, pictured below, were spotted last week in Newstead.

This beautifully restored MG Y Type and a Ford Ute in original condition were parked outside the supermarket on Thursday. Can any readers provide us with information about this Ute's history?

On Friday, another classic car, the Holden Kingswood, was snapped outside the old Butter Factory in Newstead. Most weekends, Newstead is graced with various visiting vintage cars which gather on the main street.

NEWSTEAD MARKET THRIVES UNDER CLEAR SKIES

Nola stuns with her vibrant spring colour.

LAST Saturday, Newstead's Rotunda Park came alive as the latest CFA-run market attracted a great crowd, thanks to a welcome break in the weather. Nestled in a picturesque setting beneath towering gum trees, the market featured a diverse array of stalls that brought together the community for a day of shopping, socialising, and supporting local businesses.

Among the familiar faces was Nola from Campbells Creek, a seasoned stallholder known for her hardy, frost-tolerant, drought-resistant plants. Nola's expertise and dedication to sustainable gardening make her a staple at these markets.

This market welcomed newcomers like Cheryl and her daughter Kate, who showcased their dazzling jewellery collection. Already experienced vendors at various regional markets, they decided to try their luck in Newstead, bringing their unique designs to a new audience.

Food lovers were in for a treat as locals Toni and Steve Webb's new food van offered an enticing selection of sweet delights. From hot doughnuts and beautifully decorated cupcakes to luscious chocolate slices and refreshing mousses, their offerings were a hit with market-goers. The couple were happy to join the Newstead community and hope to return for future markets.

The Newstead Market is a community hub where locals can find everything from plants and crafts to second-hand books and furniture. The CFA barbecue is a highlight, serving up hearty sausages, burgers, veggie options, and famous egg and bacon rolls, all contributing to the market's lively atmosphere. Hot and cold drinks are also available, making it a perfect spot to relax and enjoy the day.

The next market is scheduled for Saturday 16 November. Entry is free, and new stallholders are always welcome, providing an excellent opportunity for businesses and community groups to promote their offerings. Market hours run from 8am to 1pm, and interested vendors can contact Ron on 0427 506 843 or email newstead@gmail.com for more information.

Wedge-tailed Eagle, Rise & Shine Bushland Reserve, 1 September 2024.

Aquila audax

Close-up views of Wedge-tailed Eagles are always memorable. This bird was photographed on Sunday afternoon in the Rise and Shine – it flew up from the ground to a low perch in a Grey Box, moved to a higher perch in a nearby dead tree and then departed. The pale rufous-brown on the nape and mantle signifies a young bird. Aquila audax is our largest raptor by a fair margin, although the White-bellied Sea-Eagle approaches it in both wingspan and weight, with the male of both species 25% smaller than the female.

BENDIGO TECH SCHOOL

Calling all secondary school students and educators from Castlemaine, Maryborough and surrounds:

Would you like to harness the power of STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts & Mathematics) education to create a vision for a renewable energy future for your local community?

Would you like to design an innovative solution to help your community become an example of a thriving and modern energy precinct?

If the answer is yes, then the Renewable Energy Futures program is for you!

Renewable Energy Futures is offered to secondary schools in regional and rural areas through a series of virtual and live sessions hosted by Bendigo Tech School. Students will be empowered to engage with ideas about design and innovation, renewable energy technologies and climate change, and apply these to the context of their local community.

Key outcomes:

- Develop an understanding of how energy is important to our quality of life, the impacts of energy use and explore renewable and non-renewable energy sources.

- Utilise the Design Thinking Process to think creatively and critically about energy technologies for their local community.
- Opportunity to participate in a state-wide Design Challenge and pitch concepts to change-makers in industry.

The Renewable Energy Futures program is fully funded and offers schools the opportunity to loan equipment and resources to help support activities and investigations. Teachers will be supported to co-facilitate lessons through professional learning sessions and regular touch points throughout the program delivery. Participating schools will also be able to visit Bendigo Tech School to explore and engage with some of our cutting-edge technology (pictured).

Bendigo Tech School programs aim to improve educational outcomes across STEAM learning areas while building important skills for the future of work. If this sounds like an opportunity you or your student cohort would be interested in, we'd love to have you involved. # STORIES FROM THE... MALDON VINTAGE MACHINERY &

Traction Engines

SOME of the readers of this article, I'm sure, will be farmers. Farmers are very hard-working people and a lot of that work is physical. Therefore, any labour-saving device is going to be welcome and this has been true since someone invented the wheel, a couple of years before I was born.

Australian farmers have the reputation of being particularly innovative, and this is not surprising, given the extreme conditions and the nature of the work. Mechanical shears, threshing machines, circular saws, lathes.... you get the idea.

We think that living off grid is very hip and sustainable, but out in the Aussie bush 100 years ago, it was nearly all off-grid; no petrol stations or power points then.

So how to power your shearing shed?

I introduce to you, the traction engine.

The Maldon Machinery Museum has got a collection of traction engines and they all work. These things are just great to watch, an OH&S nightmare.

There's things spinning around, up and down, smoke and steam, hissing and banging, Steam Punk? Yeah, we've got Steam Punk.

Adam Tori, who we met previously with the saws and axe collection, knows a bit about these traction engines and I had another fascinating chat with him recently.

Basically, the traction engine is a power plant for all your farm gadgets. It has a big, almost flat pulley sticking out one side, which drives a long leather belt, which then runs the pulley on the gadget, pump, saw, shears, etc.

One thing that is counterintuitive about mechanical things, is that the simpler they are, the more complicated they are to operate.

Think about your car. Under the bonnet is a mass of highly tuned machinery, electronics and gizmos that most of us know just about nothing about. So how do you start it; just turn the key or push the button, that's it.

Ok, let's start the traction engine, a very simple, single-cylinder motor. There's a little tray filled with paraffin, which is lit and this heats up the basic carburettor. You know when it's hot enough when you spit on it and it sizzles; there's no other way. Then after some more adjusting and fiddling, you give the flywheel on the side a big heave and off it goes, hiss, hiss, hiss, bang, hiss, hiss, bang, bang....keep your fingers out.

People love these old engines; they've got so much character, almost a living thing, which will reward you if you treat it properly and neatly trim off a limb if you don't, no questions asked.

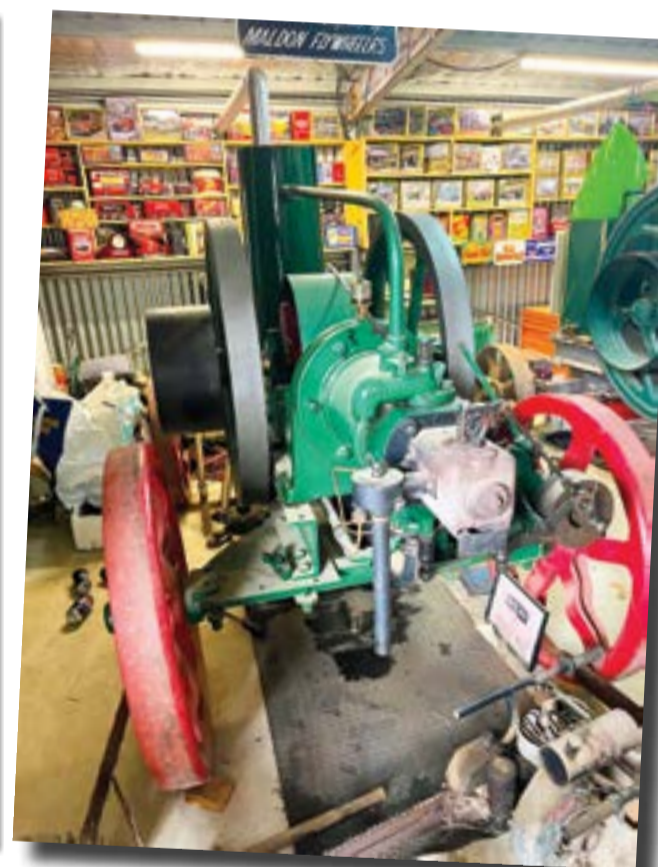

There are five here in the museum, three made in Ballarat by Ronaldson & Tippett and two imported from England, 'The Blackstone'. The local ones are slightly less fancy, with square edges and straight spokes, whereas the imported ones have curved spokes on the flywheels, supposedly for safety, so that if your arm gets caught when you are starting it, the curved spokes will flick it out, not tear it off. See, I wasn't joking.

These engines cost the equivalent of about $50,000 in today's money when new and so it was common for several farmers to buy one between them. The latest engine here was made in the 1920s, after which diesel engines gradually took over. So the timeline progression was horse, steam, oil or kerosene, (these engines) and then diesel.

The museum regularly has days when they run these amazing old engines. Have a look at the website or give them a call and come down for a look and a listen, but keep your hands in your pockets!

OUT OF THE SHADOWS.....

THERE is no doubt about playing the game of Bridge, as there is always an unexpected turn of events when the results are announced at the end of the day! We all arrived full of anticipation on what the cards would reveal for the day with the hope of high points to cheer us up!

Some weeks we strive to gain the extra trick or two to better our final score, but there is always someone lurking in the shadows, ready to pounce and secure that evasive trick! Much to our dismay, we invariably get demoted, even though we feel chuffed at our day's effort! Play went on in earnest this week once again, and from the outset, it could have been observed that one player in particular was really on his game, which was a very pleasant change as the previous weeks had not been so kind to him.

Play went on quite smoothly with the odd double or two made and at the end of the session the score sheets were quickly compiled and tallied by Ken and Mary. All was in readiness for the final results to be announced by Ken.

In first place were Werner (suddenly appearing 'out of the shadows') and Newstead Jo with 40 points, who kept the play steady all afternoon! Congratulations and Werner's smile said it all! Second place went to Aileen and Maree who combined well for 35 points. Only one point away in third place were Kevin and Judy Mac with 34 points.

Mary and Ken were fourth with 29 points, followed by Castlemaine Judy and Fred in fifth place with 24 points.

Well done everyone.

The afternoon tea break is always a help in refocusing for the final games of the day and is appreciated by all.

We send our best Birthday wishes to Meredith for her 70th birthday on 20 September and following the celebrations will be heading to Japan for a holiday.

Until next week that is it, until we meet again.

Whatever your age group or skills please feel free to join us each Thursday 1pm to 4.30pm to help us in our endeavours to

BLAST FROM THE PAST

THE MALDON SWIMMING POOL

A Maldon Swimming Club was formed in 1906 and held carnivals at the South German and North British mine dams. From about 1913 Club members held regular swimming classes for children at the South German dam.

In 1923 the Royal Life Saving Society initiated the 'Learn to Swim' campaign in Victoria. This campaign was supported by the Education Department and gained momentum in 1928 after the Melbourne Herald sponsored it and Olympian Frank Beaurepaire became the campaign's president. Many swimming pools were built in Victoria as a result of this campaign.

In September 1928 Shire President Cr Matthew Fogarty convened a meeting to discuss the building of a swimming pool in Maldon. A committee to manage the project was elected with Alex Robertson, headmaster of the State School, as its president. The Shire Council, the Advance Maldon Association and School Committee pledged their support and all agreed that the pool should be built near the State School.

The pool was estimated to cost £300, assuming it was built with voluntary labour. Many individuals and local organisations offered financial support. However, in a letter to the Tarrangower Times, 'All In' suggested that the town's children be asked for donations. As they would benefit from the pool, they should dip into their 'fairly large' bank accounts to help pay for it.

The pool was opened on Saturday 7 December 1929. It was built of concrete with clay surrounds and was filled via a concrete pipe from the town's reservoir above the present site of the tennis courts. The pool was 90 foot long and 30 foot wide. Its depth tapered from 2 foot to 7 foot. The total cost of the pool and its two dressing sheds was £500, of which the State Government contributed £126.

Cr Fogarty was given the honour of declaring the pool opened and he then introduced May Cox, the Education Department's Supervisor of Swimming and Lifesaving. Cox gave a lecture on 'the art and modes of swimming' supported by practical demonstrations by three State swimming champions. One of these champions was Lily Beaurepaire who, with her brother Frank, had represented Australia at the 1920 Olympics.

Following the opening, the Maldon Swimming Club held a carnival that included novelty events. Afternoon tea was served and the Shire Council treated all the children present to free ice cream and lollies. Local resident Howard Sampson made a film of the day's events that was later shown to large audiences at the ANA Hall (now the Community Centre).

Library News

NEXT week marks World Animal Day, celebrating the important role of animals, wild and domestic. Animals feature in many books in our Children's Collection, and there are works, fiction and non-fiction, in the general collection focusing on elephants, goats, birds, horses, hares, foxes and of course dogs.

For many of us dogs are a vital part of the family and their deeds, heroic or otherwise, have been the subject of many popular books. Favourites include Abound the World: My Travels with Oscar (Joanne Lefson), Love Clancy: A Dog's Letters Home (Richard Glover), Marley and Me: Life and Love with the World's Worst Dog (John Grogan) and Walking Ollie: Or Winning the Love of a Difficult Dog (Stephen Foster).

However, this week's library news focuses on books about cats. Like many animal stories, these books tell us as much about the author and their changing view of life as they do about the cat or cats involved. These books can be found in the library's Animal Tales section.

Homer's Odyssey (Gwen Cooper) is the story of an extraordinary cat and his human companion. It celebrates the refusal to accept limits—on love, ability, or hope against overwhelming odds. By turns jubilant and moving, it's a memoir for anybody who has ever fallen completely and helplessly in love with a pet.

Particular Cats and More Cats (Doris Lessing). Lessing was a novelist and essayist who won the 2007 Nobel Prize for a lifetime of writing. This set of short stories, beautifully illustrated by Anne Robinson, recounts the cats that have moved and amused her. They also describe Lessing's own story in relation to cats, how they affected her and she them.

Dewey: The Small Town Library Cat Who Touched the World (Vicki Myron). From the day when the small kitten was posted through the book return slot of the local library in Spencer Iowa, Dewey Readmore Books transformed the small library, saved a classic American town and eventually became famous world-wide.

Cleo: How an Uppity Cat Helped Heal a Family (Helen Brown) The book is about a small black cat who helped mend a family's broken hearts. Helen Brown wasn't a cat person, but her nine-year-old son Sam was. Sam pleaded and the deal was done - the kitten would be delivered when she was big enough to leave her mother. A week later, Sam was dead. Through happiness and heartbreak, changes and new beginnings, Cleo turned out to be the unlikely glue that affectionately held Helen's family together.

Book Reviews

By Her Own Design* by Piper Huguley, 2022

The incredible untold story of Ann Lowe, Jackie Kennedy's wedding dress designer, a black woman who made some of the most famous dresses of all time, only to be forgotten by history.

1953, New York City. Less than a week before the society wedding of the year where Jacqueline Bouvier will marry John F. Kennedy Jr, a pipe bursts at Ann Lowe's dress shop and ruins 11 dresses, including the expensive wedding dress, a dress that will be judged by thousands. A black designer who has fought every step of the way, Ann knows this is only one struggle after a lifetime of them. She and her seamstresses will find a way to re-create the dresses. It may take all day and all night for the next two weeks to accomplish the task, but they will do it.

1918, Tampa. Raised in Jim Crow Alabama, Ann learned the art of sewing from her mother and her grandmother, a former slave, who are the most talented seamstresses in the state. After Ann elopes at 12 with an older man who soon proves himself to be an abusive alcoholic, her dreams of becoming a celebrated designer seem to be put on hold. But then a wealthy Tampa socialite sees Ann's talent and offers her an amazing opportunity - the chance to sew and design clothing for Florida's society elite. Taking her young son in the middle of the night, Ann escapes her husband and embarks on the adventure of a lifetime.

Based on the true story of one of the most famous designers of the twenties through the sixties who has since been unjustly forgotten, By Her Own Design is an unforgettable novel of determination despite countless obstacles and a triumph celebrated by the world.

The Nancys* by R.W.R McDonald, 2019

Tippy Chan is 11 and lives in a small town in a very quiet part of the world - the place her Uncle Pike escaped from the first chance he got as a teenager. Now Pike is back with his new boyfriend Devon to look after Tippy while her mum is on a cruise.

Tippy is in love with her uncle's old Nancy Drew books, especially the early ones where Nancy was 16 and did whatever she wanted. She wants to be Nancy and is desperate to solve a real mystery. When her teacher's body is found beside Riverstone's only traffic light, Tippy's moment has arrived. She and her minders form The Nancys, a secret amateur detective club.

But what starts as a bonding and sightseeing adventure quickly morphs into something far more dangerous. A wrongful arrest, a close call with the murderer and an intervention from Tippy's mum all conspire against The Nancys. But regardless of their own safety, and despite the constant distraction of questionable fashion choices in the town that style forgot, The Nancys know only they can stop the killer from striking again.

The Beijing Conspiracy* by Shamini Flint, 2019

"I need your support. There is no one else I can trust. Please help her. Please help our daughter."

When ex-Marine Jack Ford receives a letter containing news of a daughter he never knew he had, he feels compelled to return to China, a country he hasn't visited since 1989 when, as a young American spy, he fell in love with a beautiful student activist and found himself caught up in the horrors of the Tiananmen Square massacre. But why has Xia got in touch now, after a 30-year silence?

On arrival in Beijing, Jack finds himself accidentally in possession of an explosive piece of information both the Chinese and American governments are desperate to get their hands on. Alone in a strange city, suspected of being a traitor by his own side, not knowing whom to trust, Jack is faced with an impossible decision. Should he save his new-found daughter or prevent a new world war from breaking out?

Hide* by S.J. Morgan, 2019

It's 1983 in Thatcher's Britain. Alec Johnston has left his comfortable family home in Cardiff and taken a flat with bikers Minto, Stobes and Black. There he meets Sindy, Minto's strange and vulnerable young girlfriend. When she starts to view Alec as a possible saviour from her abusive relationship, it earns Alec a big target on his back.

Hide takes us on a dark, unsettling journey: one that begins in a small town in Wales and continues through the vast Australian outback. As the threats get closer, Alec fears this is one journey from which he may never return.

IN MALDON TODAY
RADIO PROGRAM

TODAY we have nothing for you but blood, toil, tears and sweat. It's a public holiday and we're taking it.

Last Friday gleesome threesome Loz, Parko and Stevo livened the IMT studio with Maldon's latest news, street talk, upcoming events, and the riotous escapades of Stella the pug who ended up at Maldon police station with a mug shot to prove it! Bail was set at six schmacks and Stella is now out of 'pawcuffs' and safely home with Parko. The Maldon Lolly Shop's Ellen Gladman (pictured) treated listeners with sweet insights into her wonderful venture as the new owner of Maldon's 30-year-old Lolly Shop, including her soon-to-be-opened bed and breakfast accommodation space also at 20 High Street Maldon.

Next Friday we hope to sic Katrine and newbie presenter Ann Bolton on to Tina Fratta, and we're prepared to kidnap some books and hold them for ransom if we need to.

Doggos OF THE Goldfields

Introducing our readers to their local doggies and what makes their tails wag!

TT: Hey Jessie! We hear you're quite the local celebrity around Maldon. What's your day usually like?

Jessie: Oh, I'm all about the people, TT. I strut into the Maldon Hotel ahead of my human, Colin. By the time he catches up, I've already made my rounds, greeted the regulars, and snagged a few pats!

TT: A Border Collie who knows everyone! And I hear you're quite the hero at the hospital?

Jessie: That's right! I visit a friend of ours with dementia, and I make sure to brighten the other patients' days too. It's just what I do—spread a little joy!

TT: You're a busy pup! Now, how old are you, if you don't mind me asking?

Jessie: I'm 8 years old, but age is just a number! I still keep active—almost caught a rabbit just last week, believe it or not!

TT: Impressive! And how is life on three legs?

Jessie: It's no big deal. I lost my leg when I was a pup, but I've still got plenty of energy, even if I'm a bit slower these days.

TT: Unstoppable! Any favourite treats?

Jessie: Bacon. Definitely bacon. The locals spoil me at the café, though my human says I don't need the extra. But hey, who can resist bacon!?

Jessie is our Dog of the Week. 27 September, 2024.

Maldon Pétanque Club

WE WON, WE WON, WE WON

LAST Sunday an enthusiastic team of 19 Maldon Petanque Club players ventured over to Avoca to defend the Rusty Poppet Head Trophy against Pyrenees PC. As we were going over there the drizzle was coming down and the temperature was low, however, by the time we were ready to play, the skies had stopped watering us.

The Pyrenees Club received the Golden Boule Trophy last weekend. However, we have not been showing our best form lately away from home, so we were hoping they might be a bit overconfident. There were to be 2 rounds before lunch and 2 after lunch, with 9 teams of doubles representing each club. After round 1, Maldon was up by 2 games; at lunch, we were up by 3. After lunch in round 3 we dropped back to lead by 2 again. Could we hold on? The last round sought some very competitive play, with Pyrenees fighting back to equalise the number of games won. To get a result, the points scored by each club for the day were tallied and showed Maldon had done the best. SO WE DID IT.

Our thanks go to Pyrenees PC for their hospitality and the spirit in which the games were played.

Next Sunday it is back to St Brigid's pistes for our regular fortnightly games starting at 1pm.

Please remember to support our sponsors: Community Bank Maldon & District and Cantwell Property. If you are looking for somewhere to dwell, try Cantwell.

Cairn Curran Sailing Club

OVER winter the club has undertaken renovations and repairs to the club house and is now preparing for the opening of the summer sailing season. This will commence on Saturday 5 October with the opening event being the Commodore's Cup competing for the Alan Carson Trophy.

On the weekend of 7 and 8 September, Cairn Curran Sailing Club Inc hosted a training camp for the Impulse Association. A total of 29 boats took part under the expert coaching of Mark Bulka - a highly experienced and World Champion sailor in the Contender class. Over the weekend the sailors took part in a series of short races and various drills designed to improve specific aspects of dinghy racing. After each on-water session, debriefing and explanations took place in the club house. The weather on Saturday was excellent, but the wind blew up on Sunday morning and proved rather challenging for some of the less experienced sailors. However, all the attendees were happy with the improvement they made over the weekend and are looking forward to the start of the season. As for our members, it was an opportunity to shake off the dust and make sure the club and all necessary equipment is ready for the season.

In addition to our regular program at Cairn Curran, the Club also partners with the Bendigo Yacht Club and Sports Focus Bendigo to provide a Sailability Program based at Lake Weroona, Bendigo. This is an 'all abilities' program that offers an additional level of support and modified equipment to assist people of all ages and abilities to get into sailing. The program is run by volunteers.

Like most volunteer organisations we are always looking for additional support. No sailing experience is necessary (though we are happy to train you) as there are land-based roles in assisting our participants to enjoy their experiences. The program runs once a month on a Wednesday. If you would like more information please contact Sophie Bickford at Sports Focus on 5442 3101 or at sophieb@sportsfocus.com.au.

Maldon Bowls Club

WHAT a fantastic night at last Friday's community BBQ night. After a brief early shower of rain, the evening was cold but clear.

Over 80 people enjoyed the music, with some great dance moves thrown in by our out-of-town visitors. It was also very pleasing to see the many new people coming to our event. The music by 'Classic Rewind' always creates a great fun atmosphere. As usual there were visitors eager to bowl under the lights. A big thank you must go to our volunteers and especially our community sponsors.

Last Sunday 22 September the club held this seasons 'Opening Of The Green'. Ten players from the Campbells Creek club also joined in the play and of course a luncheon.

Triples continue each Wednesday, with Maldon entering two teams.

Weekend pennant begins on Saturday 5 October.

If you are interested in this great sport, please do contact the club.

Good Bowling all.

Social Pétanque and the Grassy Knoll
ON Sunday 22 September, four feisty teams of piste artistes played hard and fast games that were all over bar the floorshow by 3.30pm.

The floor show consisted of players trying to revive the game of hula hoops with the hoops we use to mark the start of each game. Cap'n P took on the challenge from Bernie and Barb, who were bemoaning the loss of their childhood skill. He blamed his jacket and the construction of the hoop for his lack of dexterity.

Our unofficial groundsman Antoine had raked the piste to perfection somewhat hindered by a couple of grassy knolls. Meanwhile, despite all this, teams played on oblivious of the pressing problem of loss of hip control. And the weather almost lived up to the forecast. Some games went up point by point while others were all over in a very short time, which always leads to the onlookers indulging in exciting goss, which can never be repeated. Newbie Bernie was welcomed into the fold.

Eventually the overall winners were Cap'n P, EC and Mme Bleue, with +16 points. They were followed in second place by Ann, Bernie and Barb, with -2 points. Third place was taken by Carole, Steve and Maxeen with -5 points. While Marieanne, Antoine and Joan were lucky last with -9 points, and they won chocolates for their valiant effort!

Our next games will be on Sunday 6 October (when Daylight Saving starts) at 1.45pm for a 2pm start, on the Penny School Piste. Come and join us. Call 0459 093 452 if you would like to be in a team to have a bit of fun for a couple of hours.
